

THE NEWS IN MACON.

A WOMAN COMMITS SUICIDE BY JUMPING IN THE RIVER.

An Important Matter. Submitted to the Board of Trade—A Bassett Young Lady Arrested on a Serious Charge—How to Win and About the Central City—Personal, etc.

MACON, October 15.—[Special.]—At 6 o'clock this morning a negro woman named Maria Riley, endearable by jumping into the river at a point called Sugarcreek bend, near the cemetery. It was one of the most deliberate suicides that ever occurred in Macon and has been the topic of conversation in the city.

Mr. John Appling, of Fulton, has accepted the position of night clerk at the Brown house, to succeed Mr. W. C. Vandyberg, who has been promoted to a day clerkship.

Miss Lucy Stephenson, a charming and popular girl from Cuthbert, has accepted a position in the office of the Southern Telegraph company in this city.

Judge Simmons returned home last night but was again absent this morning, Friday, to relieve Judge Mathews, who has been called home by the sickness of his wife.

Mr. J. H. Fleming, assistant burgomaster at the city hall, came to the city today from Lincoln county, where he was married in marriage to the daughter of Mr. Julie Haskins.

Mr. C. A. Warren and wife and Mr. C. G. Richardson and wife, of Marshallville, are a guest of the latter house.

An important meeting is being held in Vicksburg tonight by the citizens that intelligent negroes have paraded to the square to have the railroad extended to that vicinity.

A band of gypsies reached the city today and are encamped in East Macon.

WIREGRAPH RAMBLES.

Rare G. Impress and Sweet Memories of Life in the Old Plantation Times.

M. F. Folson, in the Americas, Ga., Recorder.

"When I was in de fel's hoein',

Nesh is set out now, he's a blowin',

Teet'd de wuk is done.

Ole' den de kales frolicked sweetly,

Dishan' Philis' dress so neaty,

Danced by the big round moon.

Come, go long wuk me, boss. Do niggas

Wukker hab or big time komin'.

This was like a dream. The dusky light

Of the evening had settled down into a perfect night. A night in autumn with a perfect cloud on the sky to hide the light of the faintest star, and no nequosity or darkness to dim the lustre of the glowing planets, or dim the blinding light of the sun.

A negro who had been strolling about the house, a youth of about twenty years of age, who had been parading the house, which it was at first thought was a parrot, but the latest news is that he is still living. Mr. Davenport is one of the oldest and most honorable citizens of Webster county, and was twenty years ordinary of the county, quitting the office last January. He is over forty years old and has been in bad health for a year, and has at times shown evidence of serious mental aberration. He is a brother of Colonel W. T. Davenport, of this city.

THE MURDER OF DAWSON.

TWO THROATS CUT.

A SAD TRAGEDY REPORTED FROM PRESTON.

How at a Poker Party in Marietta—Arrested for a Crime Committed Ten Years Ago—A Young Man Killed by the Care of the News Items Throughout the State.

AMERICAN, Ga., October 15.—[Special.]—Reliable news comes from Preston that a terrible tragedy, with almost fatal consequences, occurred in that quiet village early this morning. Only the following facts are obtained: Mr. Geo. W. Davenport got up, dressed himself, stirred about the house for a while, then returned to his wife's room. She was still in bed. He kissed her and bid her "good by," and went into an adjoining room. She followed just in time to see him in the act of cutting his throat. She tried to interfere, whereupon she made several sudden impulses turned upon her and made several high pitched gurgles in her neck, which it was at first thought were paroxysms, but the latest news is that both are still living. Mr. Davenport is one of the oldest and most honorable citizens of Webster county, and was twenty years ordinary of the county, quitting the office last January. He is over forty years old and has been in bad health for a year, and has at times shown evidence of serious mental aberration. He is a brother of Colonel W. T. Davenport, of this city.

The negro who had been parading the house, which it was at first thought was a parrot, but the latest news is that he is still living. Mr. Davenport is one of the oldest and most honorable citizens of Webster county, and was twenty years ordinary of the county, quitting the office last January. He is over forty years old and has been in bad health for a year, and has at times shown evidence of serious mental aberration. He is a brother of Colonel W. T. Davenport, of this city.

THE MURDER OF DAWSON.

Full Particulars of the Savannah Tragedy Briefly Told.

SAVANNAH, Ga., October 15.—[Special.]—At 9:35 last night, W. H. Dawson, night clerk in the Marion house, was shot and killed by Jack Walsh, a dissipated young man, well known in sporting circles.

The facts relating to the murder are briefly these: Walsh, who was in a mandarin, drunken condition, had some imaginary or real difficulty with a young man, and after brandishing his revolver and hunting him up without success, shot him in the vault of heaven like a bird of prey. He was then shot and killed by Dawson, the night clerk, whom he made inquiries concerning the man. Walsh was very boisterous and could not be quieted, and finally stigmatized Dawson as a puppy. "You dirty puppy, you," said Dawson, who was a passive man, and who turned toward Dawson and shot him with a pistol while Dawson's warning thrust it almost in the face of Dawson and fired, the ball entering his forehead and passing through his brain. The victim fell and never spoke another word, and expired in an hour and a half. Walsh was arrested and is now in jail. The people were greatly excited, and threats were made to lynch the murderer who was guarded by twelve policemen. The coroner's jury rendered the following verdict:

"We, the jury, find that Wm. H. Dawson came to his death from a pistol shot wound in the hands of Jack Walsh, and we consider it murder."

A Poker Party Tragedy.

MARIETTA, Ga., October 15.—[Special.]—Last Saturday night, at a poker party, one of the players secured another of stealing $25 from him, and went out and had a warrant sworn out for the suspected party, and had him arrested by Sheriff Coryell. When he was searched only about $5 could be found upon him. It is thought that the whole party will get into trouble through the action of the grand jury.

The Young Christians.

ROMA, Ga., October 15.—[Special.]—The system of delivering letters and packages in Rome and suburbs has just been established here. For ten cents a note or package will be delivered in any part of Rome, DeSoto, Forestville, Hillsborough or East Rome. This system is entirely unconnected with the post office, and is in charge of a private individual. It will prove a great convenience to our people.

Arrested for an Old Murder.

BAINEBRIDGE, October 15.—[Special.]—Saturday A. J. Kimbel, sheriff of Miller county, brought Richard F. Jackson, white, from Levey County, Florida, and placed him in our jail. He killed Isaac Bailey, white, ten years ago in Miller county. He will have a trial in the superior court there the third Monday of the present month.

The Young Christians.

ROMA, Ga., October 15.—[Special.]—A mass meeting of the Young Men's Christian association was held at the Baptist church tonight. Much interest was manifested.

The finance committee is at work securing subscriptions to furnish a hall for the association.

Deaths in Georgia.

DARIEN, Ga., October 15.—[Special.]—Colonel Richard L. Morris, an old citizen of this county, died suddenly this morning of hemorrhage. He was well known in Atlanta.

GEORGETOWN, Ga., October 15.—[Special.]—Colonel E. M. D. Morris, an old citizen of this county, died suddenly this morning of consumption. Colonel Morris, at the time of his death, was mayor of Georgetown, and a member of the county commission. He graduated a few years ago at Emory college and his friends all over the state will be sad at his death. He was buried today in the old cemetery.

A Broken Arm.

MARIETTA, Ga., October 15.—[Special.]—A negro by the name of Joe Edwards broke his arm while playing in a game of baseball here Saturday.

PROHIBITION IN DOUGLAS.

SUMMARY of an Important Local Act Passed by the General Assembly.

Under an act approved September 4th, the ordinary of Douglas county is required to fix a date for a prohibition election, not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days from the passage of act.

The election will be held at the election precincts of the county, and the regular voting members of the general assembly.

Notice of the election must be advertised in or in the official paper of the county, one week for four weeks, and a like notice must be posted at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The ballot will be printed respectively, "For prohibition" and "Against prohibition."

After the election is held, the county consolidated the returns, he shall if prohibition carries, certify to the result, and proclaim it in the official paper, and within twelve days, naming the day and hour of the election, shall cause to be set the act shall take effect.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must be present at the election.

The election will be held at the election precincts, and the voter must

CONSTITUTIONALS.

General Gossip and Editorial Short Stops

Caught on the Run.

A well known young gentleman of this city altered around the telegraph instruments in the editorial rooms of THE CONSTITUTION on Wednesday night to get the latest returns from the October election. He had accepted the wager of a republican friend that the republicans would elect both the governor and the legislature. The reports of Wednesday morning convinced him that he had lost the former, but he still hoped that the legislature was democratic.

"I knew it, I knew it," said the young gentleman. "It's just as certain as anything that the democratic legislature had been elected."

"His confidence was alarming, and not until he explained was it understood. Said he:

"You all may not believe in superstition, but I do. I bought a cigar this morning and it went out just as it had been finished. Here is another cigarette, which I got just as I came up here. It exploded splendidly, but half way down when I refused to burn further. I have lit it three times but it won't smoke."

"What does that indicate, do you ask? Why, it means just as certain as anything that I've just half won my wager and that Ohio has elected a republican governor and a democratic legislature. Don't you see?"

"This superstition is a remarkable thing," continued the same gentleman, "and it would be surprised to know how many people in Atlanta, even among the whites, are controlled by it. Why, I know a dozen families who would never take a cat with them, when moving to a new house, than they would worship an image of the devil. Cats are strange creatures and we superstitious people don't like them. I mashed a cat's head flat one night with a rock that I could barely lift, and then threw the cold body of the thing in a pond. That night I thought every cat in Atlanta was in our back yard. The next morning that same black cat, though slightly disfigured, was under my bed when I woke up."

"That's nothing," remarked Joe Mahan, who had been leaning dreamily over the neck of an operator watching the returns from Hamilton county. "I know a man who put six cats in a cross sack and tied it on the rear end of the last train to Atlanta, letting it hang on the crosses. I don't know to this day if it got through, but five of those six cats took breakfast at their accester's place next morning and the other came one day later. I'll tell you," he continued, emphasizing each word by pronouncing it and coming 'tow' with his finger, "I don't want any cats in mine."

The superstitious young man then asked that some one go to the window and see for him where the moon was, for said he, "It's nearly now, and it's just about up, and I am going home directly, and I wouldn't see if through the limbs of a tree for a thousand dollars. Young man, if you ever see the new moon through a suit of trees you're a gone goading that night."

The young man departed, stating that the crystal a screen owl or the howl of a dog, near a house, meant certain disaster to somebody, and admonishing all never, under any circumstances begin a new undertaking on Friday.

An old weather prophet observed yesterday that we would have a hard winter this year. "Yes," said he, "the persimmon trees are unusually full of fruit, and this is an invariable sign of two things—an early winter and a big 'possum crop."

An interesting question has been sprung up by the recent strike of the company. They will probably not vote in the approaching local option contest in the county, because by so doing they are afraid that they will subject the districts to the result of the election, and that anti-prohibitionists will be troubled by the country and suburban barroom, from which they are now free. Thus, those that have prohibition now will probably not vote in the approaching contest, as they already have the right which they would be asked to vote. If they enacted the fight they might be compelled to accept the consequences.

Said a well known gentleman who does business in the city and lives beyond West End: "I will probably not vote at all, as we already have prohibition. If I were asked to take sides in a local option contest in my militia district, I would be for prohibition every time, but if I were to vote on the same question in the city where my business interests are at stake, I would vote for it."

The young man departed, stating that the crystal a screen owl or the howl of a dog, near a house, meant certain disaster to somebody, and admonishing all never, under any circumstances begin a new undertaking on Friday.

A prominent prohibitionist said yesterday that he had not been in question to the success of his side.

"Why?" said he. "This talk about injuring Atlanta in a business way, is all bosh. We don't want liquor capital here, and will not thrive on the advantages it brings. I realize the fact that prohibition may vacate one hundred or so houses for a while and lower rents and wages for a year, but that will not last long."

An anti-prohibitionist who heard the remark replied:

"That's just the way you fellows talk, and if you put it on that ground you will be defeated two to one. It will certainly lower rents, and probably lower wages a little, and that's just what we can't stand now."

Why not let well enough alone, anyhow. You are trying to make a very dangerous experiment."

A casual and disinterested observer looks very much as if Atlanta is not ripe for prohibition.

Nevertheless, families are divided and everybody is taking sides. A man, yesterday, when asked if he stood "wet or dry?" replied:

"I am very much like the soldier who, after the surrender at Appomattox, started to walk home. He had not gone many miles, when he met a squad of soldiers, who accosted him:

"Reb or yan?"

Thinking they were Confederates he replied: "reb, and did not observe his mistake until they had given him a merciful beating. A few miles further on he met another detached squad who put to him the same question "reb or yan?"

"Yan, he answered, thinking that he had certainly struck it right this time. He hadn't, however, and was pounced upon again, by the stroking ex-confederates and severely beaten and locked up."

As he advanced several miles he met a single veteran, who approached him with "Hello, yan."

"Stranger," he replied, as he cast an inquisitive glance at this questioner, "for God's sake won't you speak fast?"

CHATTANOOGA'S BOOM.

Nearly Three Hundred Thousand Dollars Additional Capital.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., October 15.—[Special.]—Today negotiations were closed for the formation of a new banking company in this city. It will be a capital company with a capital of $100,000. The paid up capital of the bank will be one hundred and fifty thousand dollars, nine-tenths of which is from Iowa.

The bank will have assets of seventy-five thousand dollars, and a capital of $100,000. The new banking capital added to the city thus.

Judge Erwin Quibbles.

Yesterday Judge A. S. Erwin, the new rail commissioner, appeared before the governor, the usual oath, was commissioned and upon the discharge of his duties.

FIGHTING FOR SPOILS.

THE TENNESSEE MUDDLE IN THE WHITE HOUSE.

The Regular Cabinet Meeting—Fourth-Class Postmaster Appointed—A Disbarred Attorney Wanted to Remain Disbarred—A Land Agent Killed by a Squatter—Etc.

WASHINGTON, October 15.—Dissension has sprung up among the Tennessee delegation, growing out of the contest over the postmastership of Jackson, Tenn. This postoffice is of the presidential grade, and is regarded as the most important in Representative Taylor's district. Taylor had his candidate for the postmastership in the person of Mr. Howard. Senator Jackson, however, antagonized Taylor, and secured the support of Senator Harris in urging the appointment of Mr. Hurt. The representative offered to poll the town to ascertain the strength of the rival candidates, but the offer was declined. Taylor is reported to have declared that Howard had the support of the entire business community in his candidacy. It appears, however, that the senatorial influence has prevailed, as the representative has been informed that his man will not be appointed.

HE IS DISBARRED.

J. F. Manning, the attorney whose disbarment by the court of Alabama claims, was the indirect cause of the removal of the official offices to the new session, has been appointed to the post of postmaster of Birmingham. This postoffice is of the presidential grade, and is regarded as the most important in Representative Taylor's district. Taylor had his candidate for the postmastership in the person of Mr. Howard. Senator Jackson, however, antagonized Taylor, and secured the support of Senator Harris in urging the appointment of Mr. Hurt. The representative offered to poll the town to ascertain the strength of the rival candidates, but the offer was declined. Taylor is reported to have declared that Howard had the support of the entire business community in his candidacy. It appears, however, that the senatorial influence has prevailed, as the representative has been informed that his man will not be appointed.

Lord Salisbury speaks.

LONDON, October 15.—Referring to Great Britain's foreign relations in his speech at Brighton, Lord Salisbury said it was England's policy to shun quarrels where she was not needed. He said that Chamberlain's proposals would be voted down in capital and the interests of industry. Chamberlain's statement that the church and state were not mooting in the next parliament was without foundation. If the question was not settled in the next, it would be settled in the following parliament. It would be the greatest conflict in English history.

AN APOLOGY DEMANDED.

LONDON, October 15.—The English government has presented a note to the Spanish government, demanding reparation for an insult to the British consul at Havana.

The Spanish consul, M. Haas, French consul, is ill, and will return to France tomorrow. M. Haas recently secured valuable concessions from King Theobald for his company, and it is alleged that he has been received at the Burmese court were the cause of that country's arbitrary action in the case of the Bombe by the Burmese corporation, which has resulted in the present trouble between Burmese and the government of India.

The British troops are massing in the direction of Burmese.

Lord Salisbury speaks.

LONDON, October 15.—Referring to Great Britain's foreign relations in his speech at Brighton, Lord Salisbury said it was England's policy to shun quarrels where she was not needed. He said that Chamberlain's proposals would be voted down in capital and the interests of industry. Chamberlain's statement that the church and state were not mooting in the next parliament was without foundation. If the question was not settled in the next, it would be settled in the following parliament. It would be the greatest conflict in English history.

THE FOREIGN BUDGET.

News Notes From Across the Oceans—

BURMAH as an English Province.

BURMAH, October 15.—The trouble between Burmese and the government of India will probably lead to the annexation of the former to India. The matter was seriously discussed at the Indian office today. It is believed that a sufficient force will be sent to Mandaly to depose the king and annex the country to India, in order to prevent future trouble between the king of Burmese wants to raise money to give a great feast.

A dispatch from Moulmein says that M. Haas, French consul, is ill, and will return to France tomorrow. M. Haas recently secured valuable concessions from King Theobald for his company, and it is alleged that he has been received at the Burmese court were the cause of that country's arbitrary action in the case of the Bombe by the Burmese corporation, which has resulted in the present trouble between Burmese and the government of India.

The British troops are massing in the direction of Burmese.

Lord Salisbury speaks.

LONDON, October 15.—Referring to Great Britain's foreign relations in his speech at Brighton, Lord Salisbury said it was England's policy to shun quarrels where she was not needed. He said that Chamberlain's proposals would be voted down in capital and the interests of industry. Chamberlain's statement that the church and state were not mooting in the next parliament was without foundation. If the question was not settled in the next, it would be settled in the following parliament. It would be the greatest conflict in English history.

THE FOREIGN BUDGET.

News Notes From Across the Oceans—

BURMAH as an English Province.

BURMAH, October 15.—The trouble between Burmese and the government of India will probably lead to the annexation of the former to India. The matter was seriously discussed at the Indian office today. It is believed that a sufficient force will be sent to Mandaly to depose the king and annex the country to India, in order to prevent future trouble between the king of Burmese wants to raise money to give a great feast.

A dispatch from Moulmein says that M. Haas, French consul, is ill, and will return to France tomorrow. M. Haas recently secured valuable concessions from King Theobald for his company, and it is alleged that he has been received at the Burmese court were the cause of that country's arbitrary action in the case of the Bombe by the Burmese corporation, which has resulted in the present trouble between Burmese and the government of India.

The British troops are massing in the direction of Burmese.

Lord Salisbury speaks.

LONDON, October 15.—Referring to Great Britain's foreign relations in his speech at Brighton, Lord Salisbury said it was England's policy to shun quarrels where she was not needed. He said that Chamberlain's proposals would be voted down in capital and the interests of industry. Chamberlain's statement that the church and state were not mooting in the next parliament was without foundation. If the question was not settled in the next, it would be settled in the following parliament. It would be the greatest conflict in English history.

THE FOREIGN BUDGET.

News Notes From Across the Oceans—

BURMAH as an English Province.

BURMAH, October 15.—The trouble between Burmese and the government of India will probably lead to the annexation of the former to India. The matter was seriously discussed at the Indian office today. It is believed that a sufficient force will be sent to Mandaly to depose the king and annex the country to India, in order to prevent future trouble between the king of Burmese wants to raise money to give a great feast.

A dispatch from Moulmein says that M. Haas, French consul, is ill, and will return to France tomorrow. M. Haas recently secured valuable concessions from King Theobald for his company, and it is alleged that he has been received at the Burmese court were the cause of that country's arbitrary action in the case of the Bombe by the Burmese corporation, which has resulted in the present trouble between Burmese and the government of India.

The British troops are massing in the direction of Burmese.

Lord Salisbury speaks.

LONDON, October 15.—Referring to Great Britain's foreign relations in his speech at Brighton, Lord Salisbury said it was England's policy to shun quarrels where she was not needed. He said that Chamberlain's proposals would be voted down in capital and the interests of industry. Chamberlain's statement that the church and state were not mooting in the next parliament was without foundation. If the question was not settled in the next, it would be settled in the following parliament. It would be the greatest conflict in English history.

THE FOREIGN BUDGET.

News Notes From Across the Oceans—

BURMAH as an English Province.

BURMAH, October 15.—The trouble between Burmese and the government of India will probably lead to the annexation of the former to India. The matter was seriously discussed at the Indian office today. It is believed that a sufficient force will be sent to Mandaly to depose the king and annex the country to India, in order to prevent future trouble between the king of Burmese wants to raise money to give a great feast.

A dispatch from Moulmein says that M. Haas, French consul, is ill, and will return to France tomorrow. M. Haas recently secured valuable concessions from King Theobald for his company, and it is alleged that he has been received at the Burmese court were the cause of that country's arbitrary action in the case of the Bombe by the Burmese corporation, which has resulted in the present trouble between Burmese and the government of India.

The British troops are massing in the direction of Burmese.

Lord Salisbury speaks.

LONDON, October 15.—Referring to Great Britain's foreign relations in his speech at Brighton, Lord Salisbury said it was England's policy to shun quarrels where she was not needed. He said that Chamberlain's proposals would be voted down in capital and the interests of industry. Chamberlain's statement that the church and state were not mooting in the next parliament was without foundation. If the question was not settled in the next, it would be settled in the following parliament. It would be the greatest conflict in English history.

THE FOREIGN BUDGET.

News Notes From Across the Oceans—

BURMAH as an English Province.

BURMAH, October 15.—The trouble between Burmese and the government of India will probably lead to the annexation of the former to India. The matter was seriously discussed at the Indian office today. It is believed that a sufficient force will be sent to Mandaly to depose the king and annex the country to India, in order to prevent future trouble between the king of Burmese wants to raise money to give a great feast.

A dispatch from Moulmein says that M. Haas, French consul, is ill, and will return to France tomorrow. M. Haas recently secured valuable concessions from King Theobald for his company, and it is alleged that he has been received at the Burmese court were the cause of that country's arbitrary action in the case of the Bombe by the Burmese corporation, which has resulted in the present trouble between Burmese and the government of India.

The British troops are massing in the direction of Burmese.

Lord Salisbury speaks.

LONDON, October 15.—Referring to Great Britain's foreign relations in his speech at Brighton, Lord Salisbury said it was England's policy to shun quarrels where she was not needed. He said that Chamberlain's proposals would be voted down in capital and the interests of industry. Chamberlain's statement that the church and state were not mooting in the next parliament was without foundation. If the question was not settled in the next, it would be settled in the following parliament. It would be the greatest conflict in English history.

THE FOREIGN BUDGET.

News Notes From Across the Oceans—

BURMAH as an English Province.

BURMAH, October 15.—The trouble between Burmese and the government of India will probably lead to the annexation of the former to India. The matter was seriously discussed at the Indian office today. It is believed that a sufficient force will be sent to Mandaly to depose the king and annex the country to India, in order to prevent future trouble between the king of Burmese wants to raise money to give a great feast.

A dispatch from Moulmein says that M. Haas, French consul, is ill, and will return to France tomorrow. M. Haas recently secured

</

Bradfield's

THE CONSTITUTION

EVENTS FOR TODAY, OCT. 16, 1885.

LIBRARY DIRECTORS MEET TONIGHT.

CITIZENS MEETING COURTHOUSE 7:30 P. M.

THROUGH THE CITY

Pavement Paragraphs Sticked Up Here and There Over the City.

A great many horses and mules are coming into Atlanta just now.

The stable men are not all satisfied with the reduction in carriage hire.

Cold weather makes the face of a coal dealer like a spring morning.

Whisky in bottles is now shipped from Atlanta to dry counties as "writing ink."

Judge Tanner, yesterday, sent Smith to jail for a misdemeanor.

Colonel Baum hasn't struck water yet, but he "hits the grit" every day in real earnest.

Gus Crews, the man who has been bothered with the monkeys, is coming around all right.

Paine's restaurant and oyster bay will be inaugurated in all its splendor Saturday 17th.

The work of laying Belgian blocks on Line street was commenced yesterday at the corner of Peachtree.

New writings for the windows of "Uncle Sam's" will be arrived, and will be placed in position.

The fight over prohibition is waxing warm, and the average voter is taking a position on the side or the other.

While the presentations were going on at the capitol yesterday, one of the parties presented another with a stalk of sugar cane.

Atlanta will look dull and deserted for the next few days, until the people forget that for the past three months the legislature has been in session.

The case against Warren Davis charged with chicken stealing, was investigated by Justice Landrum yesterday, and the prisoner discharged for want of evidence.

Yesterday the remains of C. B. Jones passed through the city enroute to Charlotte, N. C. Mr. Jones died a few days ago at Chatanooga. His parents live in Charlotte.

Chambers &amp; Co., the popular livery men, have an advertisement in this morning's paper. Thoroughly reliable, The Constitution takes pleasure in commanding them to the public.

An alarm of fire was turned in yesterday afternoon from box 45, on Decatur street. It was caused by a heavy smoke issuing from the roof of a building near Bell street. There was no fire.

Mr. John Dyer, of Mobley, Mo., died last night at 9 o'clock. His remains will be brought to Atlanta for interment by his brother, Dr. Dr. Funeral notice will be given Saturday morning.

The general committee having charge of the ledge of sorrow recently held at the opera house, desire to return thanks to the members of the choir, the orchestra, Messrs. Taylor, Whylie, and all others who kindly volunteered to assist in making the affair a success.

LOVEJOY'S ASSIGNMENT.

Mr. Lester, the Assignee, Busy Taking Stock

Everybody is Satisfied.

His creditors appear to be satisfied.

Mr. Lester, the assignee, began taking stock yesterday. He is engaged by Mr. Lovejoy's old force. The stock is large one and the work is necessarily slow and tedious, but Mr. Lester thinks he will complete the work by Saturday. The store remained open yesterday and the sales were better than they have been on any day for a long time.

A BIG ORGAN.

The First Methodist Church Putting in the Biggest Organ in the South.

Work on the organ, which will soon be completed, the large, new organ for the First Methodist church. The organ is an immense affair and will cost between five and seven thousand dollars. It has three thousand pipes and the builder says it is the largest and finest organ ever brought to Atlanta. As it is completed Atlanta will be treated to a series of organ recitals, in which some of the most renowned organists of the country will participate. These recitals will occur early in November, and it is said that the famous Dr. Archibald will be among the great organists who will be here.

It is said that the average of the big church organs sent south cost from twenty five hundred to three thousand dollars.

As this instrument costs twice that amount, it is easy to see that it will be a great addition to the First Methodist.

A CHRISTMAS FOR A CONVICT.

A Con Man Negro Sentenced for Life to be Set at Liberty Today.

Today is the day of working at the Coal mine will be very much surprised to receive a discharge that was mailed yesterday. The man is a negro who in 1874, was sent up from Glacecock county for the term of his natural life. He committed a shooting crime for which the penalty was life imprisonment for life.

He was sentenced for that period and has served out nearly twelve years with no hope that he would die except as a convict. The negro at the time of his trial, declared that he was innocent, and since his conviction the principal witness in the case has had his evidence false and that the convicted man was innocent. Since the conviction the law has been changed reducing the penalty for the crime committed. Under all the circumstances, the negro was given a chance to commute the sentence of the negro, whose name is Jacob Hart. The governor cut the sentence down to twelve years and allowing the usual discounts for good behavior, Hart's time will expire today. The commutation was granted by the governor and the negro was released immediately. He is not exonerated as a man, and knows nothing of the efforts that have been made in his behalf. He was eighteen years old when sent to the penitentiary.

JAMES JACKSON DEAD.

A Well Known Young Man's Death—A Long and Lingering Illness.

James L. Jackson, a young man well known in Atlanta, died yesterday afternoon at his home on Glenn street.

Mr. Jackson was about twenty-eight years old.

For the past two years he has been in extremely bad health, but about six months ago began to improve, and for a short while his friends entertained strong hopes of his recovery. His improvement, however, was of short duration and about two months ago he was compelled to take to his bed. From that time he was a invalid. For the past week he had been a strong, healthy young fellow, but now his body would hardly weight ninety pounds.

Mr. Jackson, when in health, traveled for W. &amp; G. Green, the successful salers and their friends all over the state. He was quite popular in Atlanta. He was a member of the Gate City Guards, and during his illness his soldier friends showed him every attention. Lieutenant Camp was with him when he died. His funeral will take place this afternoon, and the Guard will turn out in a body.

During his life Mr. Jackson had a horror of body searching and seemed to think that his body would be disturbed after it was laid away. Previous to his death he requested his friends to stand by his grave every night for a week. The members of the guard last night considered the request, but no definite action was taken.

Mr. Jackson was a brother to Mrs. Ed Wood.

FEMALE

Ladies suffering from trouble peculiar to their sex, no matter what kind, can find relief and cure in a bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator.

Regulator

Send for our book containing valuable information for women. It will be mailed free to applicants.

THE BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO.,

Box 29, Atlanta, Ga.

Sold by all druggists.

MAIL LETTINGS.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

POSTOFFICE DEPARTMENT.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 15th, 1885.

Proposals will be received at the Contract Office of this Department until 2 p.m. of January 2, 1886, for carrying the mails of the United States upon the routes, and according to the schedule of arrival and departure specified by the Department, in the state of Georgia, from July 1, 1886, to June 30, 1887. Lists of routes, with schedules of arrivals and departures, instructions to bidders with forms for contracts and bonds, and all other necessary information, will be furnished upon application to the second Assistant Postmaster General.

WILLIAM E. VILAS,
Postmaster General.

Oct 2d fri

Notice to Debtors and Creditors.

ALL CREDITORS OF THE ESTATE OF THOMAS A. THOMPSON, late of Fulton county, deceased and hereinafter referred to in this paper as the deceased, are directed to file all bills of sale and assignments of all property in his name with the Probate Court of Fulton county, on or before the 1st day of January, 1886, to be paid to the credit of the estate.

JOSEPH THOMPSON, Jr., Executor.

Central, Southwestern &amp; Montgomery &amp; Eufaula Railroads

All trains of this system are run by Central or (Old Moridian times)

SAVANNAH, GA., October 16, 1885.

OCTOBER 17, 1885. GOING FROM ATLANTA.

L. A. Thompson D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

At. Thompson D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Carrollton D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Albany D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Eufaula D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Columbus D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Montgomery D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Atlanta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

At. Thompson D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Carrollton D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Augusta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Savannah D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Perry D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Fort Gaines D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Athens D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Entwistle D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Columbus D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Montgomery D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Atlanta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

At. Thompson D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Carrollton D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Augusta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Savannah D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Perry D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Fort Gaines D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Athens D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Entwistle D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Columbus D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Montgomery D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Atlanta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

At. Thompson D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Carrollton D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Augusta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Savannah D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Perry D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Fort Gaines D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Athens D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Entwistle D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Columbus D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Montgomery D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Atlanta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

At. Thompson D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Carrollton D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Augusta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Savannah D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Perry D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Fort Gaines D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Athens D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Entwistle D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Columbus D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Montgomery D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Atlanta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

At. Thompson D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Carrollton D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Augusta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Savannah D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Perry D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Fort Gaines D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Athens D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Entwistle D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Columbus D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Montgomery D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Atlanta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

At. Thompson D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Carrollton D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Augusta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Savannah D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Perry D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Fort Gaines D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Athens D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Entwistle D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Columbus D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Montgomery D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Atlanta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

At. Thompson D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Carrollton D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Augusta D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Savannah D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Perry D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Fort Gaines D E No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Athens D No 22. 7:30 a.m.

Entwistle D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Columbus D No 1. 7:30 a.m.

Montgomery D No 1. 7:30

